

New Online Research Opportunity for Children with RASopathies

Participate in one of the first studies looking at the relationship between quality of life, behavior, and social cognition in RASopathy syndromes!

Study Includes:

- Parent online survey (~1hr)
- Child online survey & assessment (~1 hr)
- Parent phone survey (~30 minutes)

Who can participate?

- Any child with a RASopathy diagnosis and their family
- Ages 8-18
- English-speaking

Additional Information

- Families from outside the US are welcome to participate!
- For children with limited reading levels, families may choose for only parents to participate.
- For families with limited internet access, we are happy to mail paper surveys.

Questions or want to get started? Email Paige Naylor at rasopathies.pau@gmail.com or call (504) 881-3925.

This study is sponsored and monitored by the Palo Alto University IRB. The research team includes Dr. Wendy Packman and Paige Naylor.

